

FREE SCHOOL FOR THE POOR

WHO:

Chief Zheng detao from the provincial education department is building free school for the poor children so that they can study without having problems in paying to get education.

WHAT:

A free school is built in Guangdong to help the children in china to study. It is also built so that china can become more smarter and get a good education.

WHEN:

by autumn the school will open and start welcoming students to teach.

WHERE:

This school is built in guang dong ,china.

HOW:

The provincial education department has teamed up with the government in china to built a free school so that the children of china can go to school and get a good and better education. They built this school by holding a fundraising activity. The total of money needed for 1 year is 30 million yuan (US$3.7 million).

WHY:

They built this school so that children can get the education that they deserve without worrying about the payment.

